And under Sec 14(a) and (b) Govt shall have, for each Municipal Council (a) determine the number of Councillors & (b) fix the proportion of the Councillors, if any, who shall be nominated. The tenor of the Municipal Regulation is that inhabitants of Municipalities shall enjoy the privilege of electing their own Councillors & that this privilege can only be denied to them in exceptional Cases (Sec 14(1)). As at present only important towns with a population of not less than 5000 shall be constituted into Municipalities under the Regulation, the elective franchise may be bestowed on the people of these towns & People of the Province already enjoy the privilege of electing certain members of Taluk Boards. For the present the number of elected members may be limited limited to one-third of the total number of members of each Council as mentioned in provisoto Sec 10.

3 The question then to be considered is what should be the strength of these Municipal Councils and which Officers should be Ex-Officio members thereof.

4 At present the following the Ex Officio are members of Non-Deputation Municipalities.

(1) By Commissioners President of all the Wards in the Dist.

(2) Sub Division Officer Vice President of all Wards in the Sub-Division.

(3) Treasury Officers Vice-Presidents of Dist. Head Quarter Municipalities.

From the above it would appear that generally the minimum number of Ex-Officio members on a Municipal Board is four and the maximum is 6? And the present rule regarding the appointment of Official members is that the total number of Official members, including Ex-Officio, the President and Vice-President, should, in no case exceed half the total number of Municipal members.

9 In dist & Head Quarter municipalities, in addition to the officers mentioned on the office note above, it seems necessary to have the District Sanitary officer also on the Board - He is more important than the District medical officer - Thus, the municipal Council may consist of 13 members of whom six are ex-officio, six nominated councillors who are not salaried servants of Govt and six elected councillors At present, the special Sub-Registrar also is an ex-officio [illegible] but it seems hardly necessary to have him on the Municipal Board in Deolali head-quarters.

6 As regards other Municipalities, it is suggested in the office note above that the Sub Divisional Asst. Comrs be appointed as Presidents - This does not commend itself as desirable - Wherever the places formed into Municipalities are in the revenue charge of a Sub-divisional Asst. Comr, he may be appointed as the Senior Vice President and the Amildar the Junior Vice President - Sec 23 of the Municipal Regulation allows more Vice Presidents than one being appointed for any place - Such an arrangement by such an arrangement, the existing State boundaries of Talukas will be interfered with as little as possible and a status is given to the Sub Divl Asst Comrs in Municipal affairs. 14 I concur in the views expressed by the Asstt Secy. A draft of rules in accordance therewith may be prepared & submitted to the 1st Councillor, prior to circulation as Council matter.

[It seems a pity that this question was not dealt with before notifying certain places as municipalities with effect from the 1st-July 1908, or at least simultaneously under S-9 of the Act, every municipality must necessarily have a municipal council, & the notifying of certain places as municipalities providing for the constitution of such Councils

(2). Personally I should like to see more of the non official element in municipalities (like Sanawar, Melkote, Salejam &c) — At any rate I should not object to the non official element predominating at these places — and with this view I would fix the minimum at 15, or even 18, members for these places irrespective of the proportion betn the official & the non official element — But I refrain from incorporating this idea in the proposed draft as I doubt that it will commend itself to Colleagues in Council —

19. I would offer a few remarks.
(1) There is no separate District Sanitary Officer for each Dt. The Dt medical officer is also the Dt Sanitary Officer at present. The presence of the Dt. Sanitary Officer in the Council is a necessity. If this is secured, the necessity for the Dt Medical Officer to have a seat on the Council ceases to exist. I would therefore omit Dt Medical Officer from the list of Ex officio Councillors.

(2). It is a question whether the Sanitary Inspector of the Mobile Health Department should not take the place of the 'Senior Medical Officer' on Mofussil Municipal Councils.

(4) The idea of democratizing these Councils by the introduction of a larger non-official element is certainly a commendable one. But it should be noted that the proposed Councils will consist of $\frac{1}{3}$ Officials and $\frac{2}{3}$ non officials. This proportion ought to satisfy our democratic aspirations for the present.
